

I've dealt with many lawyers in my life, and try to search out the best ones. Before I met Jeffrey Lowe, I had talked with several Canadian immigration attorneys.

I arranged a consultation with Jeffrey, and in one hour, I learned why the other attorneys were pushing me in a certain direction, and Jeffrey gave me a strategy which allowed me to achieve my business objectives within a few weeks, rather than months.”

I can't say enough about the incomparable service my family and I received from the staff in Lowe and Company and Vivien Lee in particular. She is an exceptional immigration consultant, knowledgeable, professional, personal, and most importantly, ethical. She kept abreast of our immigration case at all times which made us feel very secure and well taken care of. I have recommended Lowe and Company to many friends and family and will not hesitate to suggest their service to anyone else.

I was in the textile business in Singapore for many years, and decided to immigrate to Canada. I met Jeffrey Lowe through some Christian friends, and he helped me deal with some problems that I had gotten into, and then took care of all the applications and procedures for my Investor Immigrant case. Even after we landed in Vancouver, Jeffrey continued to be a valuable source of information, introducing people who have had a great impact on my career and work. I heartily recommend Jeffrey and his team at Lowe and Company to anyone interested in immigrating to Canada.

After getting married and arriving in Canada, my husband and I were faced with the arduous task of getting permanent residency for me, a United States citizen. A friend recommended that we look into the immigration lawyers at Lowe and Company. This was our first time ever needing a lawyer, but God provided for us a divine blessing through Vivien Lee at Lowe and Company. The very first time we met, Vivien clearly explained the process she would take us through in order to achieve our goal....We left our first meeting with joy as we had been so encouraged by the level of confidence, poise, and peace Vivien possessed.

Throughout the process, Vivien clearly instructed us in all of the filling out of paperwork and graciously phoned us with helpful reminders of deadlines and helpful hints. Her knowledge of the latest and newest immigration guidelines gave us confidence that we had made the right decision in choosing Lowe and Company. Both Vivien and her assistant Doris went out of their way to give us peace through the somewhat stressful process. Doris was always available to take my questions and Vivien graciously notarized documents so that I could leave Canada to visit my family on short notice. They always greeted my husband and I with a smile and were sensitive to the wide range of emotions we were feeling as a result of having to share some intimate details of our marriage to the government.

The most meaningful aspects of working with Lowe and Company was their valuing of integrity and honesty and their sincere excitement whenever a step in the process was approved and cleared. They would phone just to let us know the status of our application. With each phone call, I felt more and more at home in Canada. And after 11 months of working with Lowe and Company, I am proud to call Canada home! I know that without the sincere care of Vivien Lee, Doris, Lowe & Company, and my Lord, Jesus Christ, I would not be celebrating my status in Canada today! Thank you, Vivien, Doris, and Lowe and Company!

*Sincerely,

When Jeffrey Lowe first assessed my case, he thought the chance of success with a PNP application were very slim. It was our best option though, and I wanted to go for it. Jeff and his team worked with my supervisor and I, researching all sorts of supporting statistics for our position, and by the time we were done, the case was very strong! I received my Work Permit, and PNP approval a few months later, and am so thankful to have had Lowe and Company on my side!

Family reunion was the reason why I needed to hire Lowe & Company to be my immigration consultant. At first, I didn't feel anything special about this company and thought that it was just like any other ordinary immigration companies in the market. After working through my application with Vivien Lee who was my immigration consultant, she had helped and guided me through each step clearly and professionally. She fully understood my needs and carefully handled my paperwork with utmost commitment. To me, Vivien is not only my immigration consultant but also one of my friends now in Canada. I have no hesitation to recommend Vivien and her team to anyone who is thinking of immigrating to Canada.

I was involved in the Graphics Design business in Cairo for many years, and wanted to immigrate to Canada. I had several friends who had immigrated already, and they recommended Jeffrey Lowe as a very good and trustworthy Immigration lawyer. There are many immigration consultants in the Middle East, but I was not sure who had the knowledge, experience, and who I could trust. Lowe and Company handled my case smoothly, and prepared me for each step. I would certainly recommend Jeffrey Lowe to anyone thinking of immigrating to Canada.

"I would like to take this opportunity in sharing my pleasant experience when dealing with 'Lowe and Co.', in particular, Ms. Vivien Lee who had shown unprecedented professionalism in handling my immigration application to Canada. She has also readily helped my family in many other areas whenever we needed her assistance. Her total commitment to her profession is highly commendable and I will definitely engage her service again, once required."

My family was in the Food industry in Taiwan, and I wanted to immigrate to Canada. There were many Immigration Consultants in Taiwan, but I wanted to hire a lawyer from Canada. I met Jeffrey Lowe through some Taiwanese businessmen at the Taiwanese Entrepreneurs and Investors Association, and found him to be very knowledgeable and trustworthy. Jeffrey handled all my application and paperwork, helped me prepare for my interview, and understand all the requirements for Entrepreneur immigration. Since landing in Canada, I have invested in or operated several businesses, including a Video store, Consulting business, and several others. Jeffrey Lowe has not only help me to immigrate, but he has been a great help in my business matters in Canada. I would recommend him and his company highly.

Thank you, Vivien, for helping me in obtaining my PR status. You've been so graciously working on my immigration case. You first helped me obtain my work permit so smoothly, and then my PR status in such a short time. I have recommended many others who are in the same situation as I to work their cases with you based on your excellent service and hearty devotion.

With the help of God, you have sincerely helped me and many others to fulfill their goals and dreams. I just want to express much thanks and blessings to you and pray that you will continue to be a wonderful testimony of the Lord Jesus' love to those who are in need of your help and service.

*Much love,

I was in the Singapore Government Service for many years, and was responsible at one time for over 600 staff. After I retired, I was interested in immigrating to Canada, and had some business dealings in Quebec. I met Jeffrey Lowe through some friends who had immigrated to Canada through his services. Jeffrey was able to point out the difficulties in my case which I didn't even realize, and then have the solutions ready. Since landing in Canada, Jeffrey has been a valuable source of guidance and contacts in business, getting established here, and preserving my immigration status while returning to Asia. I would highly recommend anyone interested in immigrating to contact Jeffrey and his team.
